Transparency through Reporting

National experiences with the current MRV framework

Challenges and Success Stories: How to Engage Various Sectors and the Subnational Level

- Information Matters (IM) outcomes gave first assessment of the national framework for designing a MRV system through an established dialogue platform and capacity building activities.
- ICAT scope has focused on the developing of institutional arrangements of the architecture of the national transparency framework of DR through the MRV components, including the area of support.
- Private sector engagement to the NDC and the Paris Agreement + SDGs.
- Challenges remains on the internal procedures and coordination within the institutions to generate, monitor and report the required data (subnational and national level).
- Sufficient resources to maintain the sustainability.

National benefits of a robust transparency system

- Stronger governance for NDC implementation while ensuring sustainable development (institutional strengthening)
- Clear institutional arrangements and enhanced coordination of all stakeholders
- Designing and implementing stronger public policies that integrate all socio-economic sectors in the national planning process
- Stronger Public-Private partnership
- Quality data for compliance through standardized processes (electronic platform)

Support needed to deal with ETF requirements

- NDC update
- Expand the mitigation actions electronic platform registry, to include all the elements for the ETF (NDC data tracking= mitigation, adaptation, means of implementation)
- Establishment of NDC tracking through the MRV System
